Committed Passion For Entrepreneurs

Eaves Consulting Newsletter

December 9, 2009

Dear Chad,

Welcome to our last newsletter before Christmas. In this issue we offer readers a Christmas gift in the form of a time forecasting tool. It is free to download and we hope it helps you have a prosperous 2010. We are saving you the time of unwrapping it. We like to think of this gift as one that will keep on giving you what you need - knowledge and awareness around your productivity and time. The most important commodity that any entrepreneur has!

Following this introduction is my commentary on an article I read on Inc. magazine's website last week that I wanted to share with you. It is an interesting article to be in a business magazine. Its premise is that promotions should be given at random. That's right! No merit-based promotions from a group of Italian researchers.

Another reminder for our readers is our January entrepreneur round tables in Winter Springs at the UCF Incubator on January 26. We will also have our first ERT at the Sanford UCF Incubator on January 27. See the below article for more information.

And some of you are still shopping this evening! With one day left before Christmas, I created a book suggestion list for gifts and stocking stuffers. "Winner Takes All" provides an interesting back story into how current Las Vegas was created. "Business Stripped Bare" is both an educational and entertaining book by Sir Richard Branson based on his business experiences.

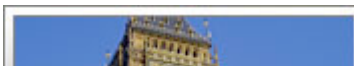

Wishing all of our readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!
